

Black Lines Matter

LT Playfair (Brutalist Figuration)

I'm a Canadian artist working in raw, instinct-driven figuration. My early sketches and the Cancel Culture Years formed the foundation of my style—lines with weight and intention.

Brutalist Figuration grew from that period and continues to evolve.

I create from instinct. My work comes from raw, immediate moments—the kind you feel before you can explain. I don't approach the canvas with reverence; I confront it directly, letting the line find its own weight.

That's where the truth is for me.
